Rearden Commerce™ Executive to Speak on “Gaining Control: A Strategic Approach to Managing Travel” at Rocky Mountain Business Travel Association Roundtable

Rearden Corporate Travel Expert to Discuss How Travel Managers Can Take Advantage of Opportunities to Offset Rising Costs

Foster City, Calif. – June 28, 2007 – Rearden Commerce, the largest marketplace for services of all kinds, today announced that Tony D’Astolfo, vice president, worldwide sales, will be a featured speaker on the topic of “Gaining Control: A Strategic Approach to Managing Travel during Turbulent Times” at the Rocky Mountain Business Travel Association meeting in July. D’Astolfo, considered one of corporate travel’s leading experts, will address how strategic travel managers can proactively focus on opportunities to offset rising costs with savings in expense categories that they can control. As a result, travel managers can provide a solution that delivers positive bottom line results to their overall travel program.
